Thief Robs of Diamond Brooch
Woman Who Was Dying
on the Street.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fostering as a physician, a thief, well-dressed and educated, stole a diamond studded brooch, valued at $1000, from the neck of Mrs. Pauline Boomer of No. 2 East One Hundred and First street, wife of a wealthy wholesale produce dealer, while she lay dying in the vestibule of the Eighth Regiment Armory, in Park avenue. The thief stepped forward from a throng when she fainted and, pretending to be a physician, removed the brooch while she was feeling her pulse.
As the woman was breathing her last and the thief had stepped from among the crowd to obtain some medicine, as he said, the brooch was missed.
He did not return.

TORPEDO BOAT DESTROYED.

Destroyer—American Navy Says by Wireless and Engines Are Disabled.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A wireless message indirectly received here tonight reported the United States torpedo boat destroyer Terry in trouble off Cape Hatteras. The vessel was in communication with the steamer Tagus, and the battleship South Carolina.
Further wireless advices from other vessels in communication with the Terry were that the destroyer's turbine engines and pumps were out of commission, all her stores were ruined and that her wireless apparatus was not working.
The Tagus left Hamilton, Bermuda, at 11 a. m. Saturday, and is due at New York at 2 p. m. tomorrow. At noon today on her regular schedule she would have been 450 miles from this port, to the southeast.
The revenue cutter Onondaga was reported by the South Carolina to be in the immediate vicinity of the Terry.

IDEAL RELIGION IS GIVEN FORM.

Former Rabbi Is Mouthpiece at First Sermon.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a Boston playhouse today was launched the new religious movement by Charles W.
Fletcher, until recently a prominent Jewish rabbi, and a daily 1200 attended the opening of the "Sunday commons," as the new venture is styled, and applauded the plans unfolded.
The commandments were termed "eternal teachings, identical in all civ-ilizations."
This theater full of Americans, of all ages and all races, demonstrates the spiritual hunger and thirst of American people, declared Mr.
Fletcher. "I shall always respect my past, but I recognize the need of a new religion to express the spirit of the age. Millions of Americans are sick to death of the inherited religions handed down to us, and have evolved for little people in little countries. Though they contain words of teachings of permanent value, they cannot hope to reach and hold the great human race. The old cults do not grip the life of the American people. They inherit ancient prejudices that have divided men."
"For the first time in history, men are becoming human. That touch of nature that makes us all kin is becoming stronger."
"Americanism is the common noun that describes us all. True religion must be applied to the life people are living. It cannot grip the people of any race."
"Material civilizations always decay. The spiritual civilizations of the past have perished, and if we spiri-tualize and look forward we shall be the greatest world power mankind has ever known."

FOR SALE, BUT NOT CHEAP, A DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

BY SUMNER CURTIS.
(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON (D. C.) Jan. 7.—
[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago entered the arena this morning.
Denver threw its forces into action a few hours later, and all the rest of the day and night the four-cornered fight—five-cornered, if New York is counted in—over the location of the Democratic National Convention has been raging furiously.

There is only one feature, however,
of the embroiled Democratic situation preliminary to the meeting of the National Committee. William J. Bryan arrived this evening, earlier than expected, but still several hours late because of a railroad wreck that impeded his journey from the South.
Mr. Bryan, with a pony to sit in the meeting tomorrow, refused to discuss any matter that might come before the committee, declared he had nothing to say regarding Presidential candidacies while in the city, and also had no comment to make on a letter written years ago by Woodrow Wilson to a friend, inquiring whether there was not some dignified way of getting rid of this man Bryan for all time, further than to say it ought to be made for him (Gov. Wilson) among those who are most interested in it.

Battleship and Dreadnought
Collide—The Alliance
Hits a Bar.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—When the Navy Department learned that the torpedo boat destroyer Terry was in distress, the powerful wireless station here flashed out orders for all United States war vessels to steam at once to the little craft's assistance.

Special instructions were given to the commander of the transport Pamlico at Norfolk, Va., to sail at once in the search, and a wireless message was sent out intercepting the crippled scout cruiser Salem, which was turned back in the quest.

The Perry carries a crew of three hundred and eighty-three men. Lieut.
John C. Fremont is in command.
Several vessels of the Atlantic fleet, en route from Norfolk to Guantanamo, suffered severely in the northwest gale which raged off the middle Atlantic coast yesterday. The Salem was badly damaged and was returning under convoy to the Norfolk navy yard for repairs.
Taylor, an ordinary seaman, and Herman Goldstein, seaman, were eaten overboard and drowned.
Rear-Admiral Osterhaus, the commander-in-chief, has ordered the destroyer of the Atlantic torpedo boat fleet to proceed to Bermuda, for a short rest after their experience in the storm. The Dixie, with the Minneapolis and North Dakota, also will stop at Bermuda, probably today, as the Dixie carries some damage in the gale.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to wireless messages received here tonight the cruiser Salem was badly damaged in a gale off Cape Hatteras tonight. Two men are reported to have been washed overboard and drowned. Other ships are also reported damaged in the gale.

coa, leaving the port today for San Francisco, struck the bar, losing her cue, but she was unable to return to twenty-five passengers on board.

damaged. Both vessels will be docked.

MORGAN'S YACHT HARD HIT.

The Corsair at Anchor on Virginia
Coast After a Terrible Experience
In a Storm.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
NORFOLK (Va.) Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With her cabin, a portion of her rail and both anchors gone, the steam yacht Corsair, owned by J. Pierpont Morgan, is lying at anchor off Assateague Island, near Tombsha, with the revenue cutter Onondaga standing by. The Corsair had a terrible experience in the storm Friday night, and came near foundering in the gale. Life savers from Assateague Life Saving Station nightly aided the yacht in distress yesterday morning and went to her assistance.
The yacht was then beating around helices in the storm with no anchor on board and unable to stand up against the terrible northwest gale that was steadily driving her nearer the treacherous shoals of Assateague.
The yacht ran into such high seas
Friday that water poured all over her and her fires were extinguished.
Waves beat in the cabin of the handsome craft and those on board had to seek shelter down below in the engineroom.

The names of those on board could not be learned, but it was reported tonight that they were taken off by life savers who gave them dry clothing and food and a place to sleep.

TWO OF A KIND IN CONFERENCE.

Bryan Meets La Follette in National Capital.

Political Gossips Are Now
Wagging Tongues.

They Think the Men Have Formed Coalition.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—William J. Bryan of Nebraska, and Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, had a conference in the Union Station today upon their arrival in the city, the former from the South and the latter from the West. The meeting between the two "Presidential" candidates of the Democratic party and the Independent Republican, who is seeking to wrest the nomination from President Taft, was said to have been confidential.

No sooner was it known that the two had come together, than tongues began to wag and third-party talk flew thick and fast. It was not confined wholly to members of the Democratic National Committee, who were gathering for the meeting tomorrow. Republicans, too, showed a lively interest.

SEEKING METHODS.
All day the Democratic committee-men had been seeking methods dealing with the several perplexing questions scheduled to come up at tomorrow's meeting, but nearly every possible solution advanced seemed to depend upon the probable attitude of the Nebraska leader. Program was slow because of the general desire to consult Mr. Bryan and his arrival, scheduled for 4 o'clock, was awaited with impatience. His train, blocked by a wreck, was not expected until 5 o'clock.

Many prominent Democratic leaders were at the station. After hand shaking all around, Mr. Bryan and Senator La Follette seemed to fight each other at the same time. They rushed toward each other and shook hands, and then lost no time in withdrawing a short distance from the crowd. They sat down on a bench and conversed for some time. Several minutes.

"What's being done?" was the question the waiting Democrats seemed to be asking each other, as they watched some conversation was apparent.

When Mr. Bryan and the Senator parted, they both showed a good deal of feeling. Mr. Bryan said that Senator La Follette had been talking about the resolution pending in Congress regarding the election of Senators by popular vote. La Follette gave the same explanation by saying that some remained skeptical.

PURELY ACCIDENTAL.
It was reported La Follette had gone to the station to meet Mr. Bryan, but the Senator said the meeting was purely accidental.

"We only talked about the direct election resolution," said the Senator. "We are both deeply interested in the subject and Col. Bryan agreed with me that the resolution should be passed."

Col. Bryan drove from the station to the home of Mr. E. B. Rye, and the Senator to the home of Mr. E. B. Rye, the closest friend in Washington. He declined to talk about any problem the committee will have to solve. It is evident he wanted to get his bearings before plunging into what promises to be a stirring gathering.

After removing travel stains, Bryan drove to the hotel apartment of Norman E. Mack, chairman of the National Committee and died with him.

At the hotel Bryan was met by a large number of newspaper men. He was asked questions in every conceivable form, but would not discuss candidates, contents of Presidential primaries or any of the matters pending before the committee. He would not talk of the letter said to have been written by Woodrow Wilson a few days ago urging the party to rid itself of the Nebraska, but he was affable.

W. F. McCombs, manager of the Woodrow Wilson headquarters, charged tonight that the report of friction between Wilson and Bryan was inspired in Wall Street, and that other stories of the media might be expected from that source. He did not deny the existence of the alleged letter, however.

There will be gathered here tomorrow nearly every man who has been mentioned for the Democratic nomination or at least all active and receptive candidates will be represented.

WHO WILL BE THERE.
In person there will be Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, Gov. Fox of Massachusetts, Speaker Champ Clark and former Gov. Felix of Missouri; Gov. Dyer of New York; Senator Kern of Indiana, who is supposed to be the representative of Gov. Marshall, but who is represented by many as being a dark horse probability, and Mr. Newlands of Nevada, who has a considerable following.

Senator Pennington of Ohio is looking after the Judson Harmon boom; Representative Underwood of Alabama is within reach, but will not attend the Jackson day banquet, and there will be William H. Root, who is spoken of as a possibility although generally accredited a Clark man, and Col. Bryan, who does not lack supporters.

St. Louis and Baltimore seem to be struggling hardest for the convention. Although it seems doubtful that any financial inducement beyond actual expenses, and the Democratic Committee feels that the city which receives the convention should provide something with which to start a campaign. Denver and New York also try to entertain the convention. It is said, but the race seems to be narrowing down to the cities first named.

It was declared tonight that Baltimore's chances were increasing.

Colorado Father Gets License
for His Son to Wed Daughter.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
BOULDER (Colo.) Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Citizens of Lyons are puzzled to determine the status of relationship that will be established in the family of D. K. Daniels when the marriage license that Daniels got yesterday for the wedding of his daughter and his wife's son is used. Daniels started the County Clerk when he declared he wanted to have his son and daughter married. Not until he explained the son is a stepson, and not a blood relative of his daughter, did the clerk issue the license.

The young man is W. H. Noyes, son of Mrs. Daniels by a former marriage. He is 29 years of age. The girl, who is 18, is the daughter of Daniels by his first marriage. When the marriage takes place tomorrow Daniels will become the stepfather-in-law of his own daughter and the young bride will have a stepmother and a mother-in-law in one.

VIRGINIA LAKES TAFT.
Republican State Committee Indorses Administration of the President and Calls a Convention.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
ROANOKE (Va.) Jan. 7.—The Republican State Committee here yesterday adopted resolutions indorsing the administration of President Taft and pledging the Republicans of Virginia to work for his re-nomination and re-election.

The committee called a State convention for March 12, to elect four delegates-at-large to the Republican National Convention. Its action generally accords with the state delegation for Mr. Taft.

Wilson Booms in Colorado.
DENVER, Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Adherents of Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey in this State today began an active campaign to get the Colorado delegation to the Democratic national convention. State headquarters have been opened. Blaine Phillips, formerly a newspaper writer and magazine publisher on the Pacific Coast and in the Northwest, today took office as secretary. There are fifty Wilson clubs in Colorado.

Bryan's Name Seeps On.
LINCOLN (Neb.) Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] It is unlikely any move will be made to have the name of Bryan on the Nebraska primary ballot prior to his return to the state. The Nebraska primary is set for the middle of this month. Gov. Aldrich, however, has taken steps that may lead Mr. Bryan in having the petition cancelled or permit him to appear both as a candidate for the Presidential nomination and delegates to the national Democratic convention.

Well, What If He Is?
TOPEKA (Kan.) Jan. 7.—"I am in favor of the nomination of President Theodore Roosevelt for President," says Gov. W. R. Hubbard (insurgent Republican) in a statement made to the newspapers here last yesterday.

those who do not appear to have given the subject "an intelligent attention." His speech was produced in a St. Louis newspaper. It was the spirit before the panic, and many people were acutely interested in the subject. A number of men wrote Mr. Joline to ask for a copy. In response, he issued the address in pamphlet form. Dr. Wilson in Princeton received a copy and was minded to write the letter which has now risen out of the past to confront him.

That it was still able to rise thus spectre-like, that such a casual note of acknowledgment and expression of sympathy in viewpoint should have been preserved through the passing years was due to no one's foresight as the significance and interest it would acquire later on. Besides being a lawyer, a reorganizer of railroads and a writer, Mr. Joline happens to be a collector of autographs. In the course of years he has gathered together a collection of tremendous value, and the "Medallions of an Autograph Collector" was from him. So, instead of destroying the little note, he paid Dr. Wilson the compliment of preserving it as an interesting memento.

McManis' apartments were ready for him early today. Two rooms with neat beds and rugs, in one of which there is a semblance of a civilized life, and in the other, McManis' future abode, while in Indianapolis.

VALLEJO (Cal.) Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The torpedo boat destroyer Paul Jones, Lieut. William A. Glassford commanding, left Mare Island and sailed today for San Diego. There she will await the other vessels of the torpedo flotilla, due to leave Mare Island next Wednesday.

Federal Judge Resigns.

SEATTLE (Or.) Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] United States District Judge John Worth resigned yesterday. He was appointed to the office in May, 1909. He was formerly a law partner of Samuel H. Philps. He left the Democratic party to become a Republican in 1896.

Schooner Palsy Goes In.

ASTORIA (Or.) Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] The gasoline schooner "Palsy," which started from here yesterday for Alaska, was reported in distress off Tillamook Bay, returned here yesterday with all hands safe. The revenue cutter, "Albatross," sent to the assistance of the "Palsy," missed her.

Bieber Has a Blast.

SUWANVILLE (Cal.) Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Fire at Bieber, a small town in the northwestern end of Lassen county, caused damage amounting to $10,000 yesterday. The principal loss was the wholesale and retail mercantile store of the plaintiff, a two-story schoolhouse was also destroyed.

Goes to the Good Shepherd.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] Mrs. Alice Young, alias McBride, 18 years of age, arrested for setting off a bomb for two highwaymen, who held up and robbed a San Francisco business man a few nights ago, was yesterday sentenced to 180 days in the County Jail. The commitment, however, was withheld by the justice and she was given parole that she might enter the Home of the Good Shepherd in Los Angeles in the hope of effecting her reform.

Breaks Down and Confesses.

SAN JOSE, Jan. 7.—[By A. P. Night Wire.] A youth arrested at Salinas on suspicion of being down in the county prison here and confessed he was Francis Szoldyloski, a former bank messenger, and that he had absconded with $14,000 of the funds of the German-American Trust Company of Paterson, N. J.

All of the ornaments with flags, lanterns and bunting. The celebration will last two days. Tomorrow will be devoted to mass meetings and banqueting.

Man Is Much Wanted.

George Ogilvie Is Alleged to Have Conducted Fake Realty Operations in Several Southern Cities. (By Direct Wire to the Times.)

STOCKTON (Cal.) Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Ogilvie, recently arrested on a charge of conducting wildcat real estate schemes in this city and defrauding a dozen or more people out of various sums of money, and who several days ago escaped from jail and was captured near the diverting canal, is wanted in San Diego, so the District Attorney stated on the charge of swindling people there out of $25,000.

It is said that Ogilvie operated in a number of cities along the Pacific Coast, including Los Angeles, El Centro, and San Diego. In the last-named place he was known as L. A. Rockwell and is said to have sold much stock in a fictitious corporation. The officers there hold three warrants for his arrest. He will, however, be tried here.

Will Cultivate Tobacco.

LARGE COMPANY TAKES HOLD. (By Direct Wire to the Times.)

DINUBA (Cal.) Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Preliminary steps toward the planting of a large acreage of Spanish tobacco in this district was started today when Mrs. E. Chilian of the Exeter Tobacco ranch, arrived in this city and inspected several fruit ranches that probably will be purchased by the tobacco company. Chilian stated that this part of the San Joaquin Valley is the only place in the United States where this grade of Spanish tobacco can be successfully grown. Already a number of large tracts have been turned into tobacco farms and the owners are deriving a big dividend from their investments. Twelve acres on the A. Sherman ranch have yielded $2000.

Rules for the Girls to Follow in Leap Year.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON, Jan. 7.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Harriet Farrar, prominent Boston business woman, has formulated five rules. She says that a careful following out of these rules will enable any girl to guide her canoe safely through the treacherous waters of leap year without encountering a single rock.

"There are men so constituted that they can't get up enough courage to propose to their girls," said Miss Farrar. "Such men plainly need assistance. They are not really bad at heart only very stupid. They need help. Here is where the benefit of leap year comes in. A girl who is blessed with a lover of this sort may take the initiative and say a word, possibly in a joking manner—regarding future plans.

Sage Advice.

"Of course she should be sure of her ground. Nothing can be more horrible than even to imagine a girl proposing to a man and then being turned down. Such a thing would be too frightful for contemplation."

Here are the rules when the girl may exercise her leap year prerogative:

When he's bashful or stupid. When she's a business woman. When both are over 30. When she's sure he'll accept. When it's a matter of long standing.

"Leap year will be a boon to the bashful girl and to others," she said. "I don't blame a girl for speaking out when silence might mean a life of unhappiness. Better a moment's risk of humiliation than a lifetime spent in regret."

JEVNE'S

"Established 1882—Grows for 30 Years"

Eat Vegetables from the Mohawk Valley

This is the season you are accustomed to relish "canned" vegetables.

It is natural for you to prefer fresh fruits and vegetables—you relish canned goods only when the fresh is not easily had.

Give this point a moment's thought—grant that all fresh fruits and vegetables are necessarily picked several days before they reach your table in the city. The full natural flavor is not retained—they are not fully ripened and matured.

They are not better than canned vegetables which are harvested when prime and packed the same day according to modern and scientific methods.

The Fort Stanwix Canning Co. themselves control and farm more than 10,000 acres in the Mohawk and Oswego Valleys in New York State. Fort Stanwix factories are located at convenient intervals on the farms. These vegetables are harvested when fully ripened and matured and they are promptly and skillfully packed in hermetically sealed cans which are well filled.

St. Louis is back in the game and in some sense, Chicago's strongest rival, although it was given out that it would do nothing more than to pay the legitimate expenses of the big gathering.

IN THE GAME. The Denver enthusiasm has subsided, owing to the fact it seems to have fallen short of expectations in a financial way.

The arrival of former Gov. David R. Francis, of Missouri, gave an impetus to the St. Louis boom, as it was surmised he might exert financial and other influences in favor of that city.

When the various boomers came before the National Committee tomorrow, it may develop there has been a lot of bluffing in certain quarters and that the question of locating the convention will get down to a sane and, at least, partially non-commercial basis. Right now, however, the situation is a desperate one.

Col. Bryan tonight assumed his old place as party director. He first had a conference with Chairman Mack and later, sent for leaders with whom he has no sympathy whatever. Among them were Charles F. Murphy, boss of Tammany, who arrived late this evening, and had the honor of being taken into the formal councils of the national leaders for the first time in his career. James M. Guffey of Pennsylvania, who will be Bryan's rival in his contest for a seat on the National Committee, also was called in to consultation.

While refusing to talk candidly and openly, Col. Bryan let members of the National Committee know that he was for Bryan for President. The letter which Wilson wrote in 1907 is not bothering the Nebraska, who states that he is making up of the old mischievous to Wall Street interests that are out to boost Harmon and down Wilson.

CAME WITH BRYAN. Joseph Daniels, committeeman from North Carolina, who came to Washington on the train with Bryan, declared Bryan is on friendly terms with men who in times past had criticized him much more severely than Wilson. Furthermore, it was stated that Mr. Bryan until recently has been of the opinion that he could poll more votes for President than any other man in the party, but that he has changed his opinion in that regard and now is out to get "a man out who can win."

It has not been the least of the attacks on Wilson from the Harmon side. More letters are to be printed and tonight there was drawn from the past a speech delivered by Gov. Wilson in New York in 1904. In this speech he said:

"It is plainly the duty of the Democracy of the South to assume a pre-eminent place in the councils of the party, and it is the duty of Democracy of the South to read out of the party the alien element which has been in control since 1896. It is the duty of the southern Democrats to rid the party of leaders who undertook to commit it to a radical experiment, and, further, to see to it that the party should stand for the administration of governmental affairs in accordance with ancient institutions."

The Wilson boom is being promoted by a delegation of forty admirers, who have come all the way from Wisconsin. Considerable comment was caused among the friends of rival Presidential candidates when the delegation reached the Wilson headquarters this afternoon. Each of the Wisconsin boomers wore a silk hat and a badge bearing in large type the words "Wilson and Victory."

Secretary Fisher Sends in His Annual Report.

Declares for Extension of Leasing System.

Recommends Vital Changes in Present Practices.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 7.—(Exclusive Dispatch.) Secretary of the Interior, Fisher, today submitted to the president his annual report. The report is a comprehensive statement of the work of the department during the past year. It contains many recommendations for the improvement of the leasing system and for the protection of the man on the ground.

A general overhauling of conditions in Alaska is needed, the secretary says. He favors a law for the retirement of government employees, placing it on the ground of good business policy. He urges the creation of a bureau of national parks, each of which should be placed under the control of a distinct unit for administrative purposes. There is also serious need, he declares, for the enlargement of the work of the bureau of mines.

AGAINST EXPLOITATION.

The great public movement for the conservation of our national resources, says Secretary Fisher, "is not in any way opposed to the prompt and wise development of the public domain. The essential thing is to see that under the guise of settlement, we do not permit the exploitation of the land in the last analysis, retards both settlement and development."

The recommendations of the secretary, which are in the nature of a general overhauling of the department, are as follows:

1. The extension of the leasing system to the public domain so as to permit the protection of the man on the ground.

2. The creation of a bureau of national parks, each of which should be placed under the control of a distinct unit for administrative purposes.

3. The enlargement of the work of the bureau of mines.

4. The retirement of government employees, placing it on the ground of good business policy.

5. The creation of a bureau of national parks, each of which should be placed under the control of a distinct unit for administrative purposes.

6. The enlargement of the work of the bureau of mines.

7. The retirement of government employees, placing it on the ground of good business policy.

8. The creation of a bureau of national parks, each of which should be placed under the control of a distinct unit for administrative purposes.

9. The enlargement of the work of the bureau of mines.

10. The retirement of government employees, placing it on the ground of good business policy.

11. The creation of a bureau of national parks, each of which should be placed under the control of a distinct unit for administrative purposes.

CAMPAIGN ROCK SPLITS PROHIS.

New Faction in Control; Old Body Ignored.

Methods of Central Committee Cause of Revolt.

Deadlock Ties Up Party for Convention Purposes.

The Prohibition party organization in Los Angeles is hopelessly split and its annihilation is even feared as the result of factional differences, which came to a head at a meeting of the City Central Committee in the Wright & Callender building Saturday night. A dozen members of the executive board led a revolt, electing L. M. Davenport chairman. An hour later thirty-five members, who had not joined the opposition, elected a new executive committee, and unanimously voted to support L. C. Dale, who has been chairman of the City Central Committee for nearly three years, when he comes up for re-election next Saturday night.

At the present time the Prohibition party in Los Angeles is divided in such a manner, it is said, that it will be impossible to select representatives to the national convention to be held at Atlantic City in a few months. Both sides declare that it is their intention to carry on the work, completely ignoring the opposing faction.

THE OPPOSING FACTIONS.
The old organization elected to its Executive Committee Dr. W. L. Lowder, Thomas MacFadden, John Bicheno, Paul Stewart, S. E. Knowles, L. C. Dale, E. H. Kellogg, E. R. Smith, E. C. Gird, William Knickerbocker, G. S. Stubbins, C. R. Vesper, George S. Keller, E. O. Thompson, H. H. Glass, M. H. Baker, E. H. Benson, J. O. Sidener, L. E. Rogers, H. J. Schutte, Charles E. Jones, Dr. C. A. Cole, F. J. Kinder, George Hancock and J. P. Anderson.

Among the leaders of the opposition are A. H. Beccombe, V. H. Liner, Wiley J. Phillips, Prof. G. H. Spangler, and L. M. Davenport. Phillips, according to Chairman Dale of the old organization, is the storm-center. The latter considers that Phillips used the California Voice, a prohibition paper of which he is the publisher, in opposition to the Dale administration. The origin of the differences dates back as far as Thugs Confess Their Crimes and Laugh.

The Chicago highwaymen, who confess to the waylaid and killing of Mrs. Hattie Kaufman in the Windy City a month ago. They were arrested in this city through clues supplied by letters which they wrote to their families. Though both men acknowledge the deed, they do not appear to realize its significance to them and affect to treat their case with lightness.

THE TOUCH OF NATURE.

LOVE FOR BABIES LANDS SLAYERS IN THE TOILS.

LETTERS to members of their own family were the clues leading to the arrest here of George Rabenau, alias "Tothead," and John Stacey, the murderous Chicago highwaymen. They are wanted in that city for holding up, shooting and killing Mrs. Hattie Kaufman almost in front of her home on the night of December 2, 1911.

The two men could not resist the temptation to write back home. The officers saw the letters and Rabenau and Stacey were soon located. Rabenau, who says he is the one who actually did the shooting, learned after he came to Los Angeles that his little baby, less than a year old, had been hurried to death in a gasoline explosion. Stacey is also a married man, and has a child. Although he admits his participation in the crime which may send him to Joliet for life, he has a tender spot in his heart for his wife, and his devotion to the baby is surprising.

Both the young men, for neither of them is over 25, have confessed everything. When first taken into custody they denied their guilt. When convinced that the officers "had them," Rabenau and Stacey acknowledged the deed, which they affected to treat with lightness.

Rabenau feels confident, he says, that the gallows will be his ultimate end, while Stacey jokes over the belief that he will get a life sentence. Both men said yesterday to the officers while being questioned in Capt. Flammner's office that had they not been drinking on the night of the killing, they never would have stolen the automobile and started out on a hold-up expedition. Their one desire now seems to be to get back to Chicago as quickly as possible, see their wives and babies and "get the thing over."

Detective Boyd, who assisted Capt. Flammner in locating the young men and later arresting them at the corner of West First and South Main streets, has received word that Chicago officers will leave that city today en route to Los Angeles. They will stop at Springfield to get requisition papers. Rabenau and Stacey said yesterday they would return without any legal formality.

CITY JUMPS HIS CLAIM.

Man Finds Municipality in Calm Possession of His Property—They've Built a Police Station on It.
Clarence Ferguson, vice-president of the Los Angeles Bakery and Biscuit Company, made the discovery Saturday that for years the city has been using, rent free and unknown to him, a piece of property in Chinatown belonging to his father. For a while the son feared his father had lost title to the lot, for the city had used it for a little more than thirty years. He called on Chief Sebastian Saturday and was told that the city claimed no title to the land, and that it would move rather than pay rent. Ferguson said that would not be necessary, as he is satisfied to let matters stand so long as his father does not lose the title.

The lot is on Los Angeles between Arcadia and Plaza streets. It is one of three upon which portions of the Chinatown police station stand. The lots are owned by Clarence Baruch of Hasek Baruch & Co., and the estate of the late Tony Ballerino.

When the station was built, permission to use the Baruch and Ballerino lots was secured from the owners but no request was made of Ferguson. The first he knew was that the land was occupied was when he chanced to ride by it Saturday in his automobile. It was reported that a disgruntled Chinese, who had been a victim of a raid, knowing the facts in the case, had informed him.

This property has been the bone of contention between the owners for many years owing to the inability of anyone to fix the property line satisfactorily to all concerned.

WANT LINE OPENED.

A mass meeting of protest against the vetoing of the proposed electrification of the Santa Monica and Pacific coast held this evening at Thirty-seventh street and Halldale avenue by the residents interested in the opening of the beach line. A petition which President Charles Meyer, of the Protective Improvement Association, says carries 1999 signatures has been prepared and will be presented to the Council tomorrow morning. Officials of the Santa Monica and Pacific coast proposed removal of the freight station at Sunset boulevard and Buena Vista street to Eighth and Herlock and this has evoked considerable feeling among the residents in the vicinity of the present site.

Grand Army's Commander-in-Chief Here Today.

National Council to Arrange for Great Encampment.

Reception at Soldiers' Home to Distinguished Guests.

A dispatch received by Capt. H. E. Osborn late last night, announced that the train bringing the commander-in-chief of the Grand Army and National Council is twelve hours late. The Grand Army reception planned for Blanchard Hall tonight will be amalgamated with the public reception at the Chamber of Commerce tomorrow night on that account.

A grizzled veteran, bearded, erect, showing in every line his military experience of nearly half a century ago, will step from the Santa Fe train this afternoon with other Union soldiers in the war between the States. Other veterans of the civil conflict will be at the train to meet the honored guest, Judge Harvey M. Trimble, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, and those accompanying him, fellow members of the National Council, here to arrange the details for the forty-sixth annual national encampment of the Grand Army, to be held here this summer.

The reception committee will be Capt. H. E. Osborn, president-elect of the Chamber of Commerce, Past

Who hanged himself in the City Jail yesterday, where he was held to face four charges preferred by his septuagenarian wife, whom he secured through an advertisement some years ago.

Liver Tragedy.

DEATH'S END OF "AD" MARRIAGE.

FEARING "MAIL ORDER" WIFE, HE KILLS HIMSELF.

Held on Four Charges Preferred by Spouse He Found and Wedded Through Advertisement, Prisoner in City Jail Hanged Himself to Bars of the Tank.

Fear of facing his wife in the Police Court this morning, she having threatened to prosecute him on four different charges if she could secure that many complaints from the city prosecutor's office, C. H. Kelley, 43 years old, of No. 1154 East Tenth street, committed suicide in the City Jail yesterday afternoon by hanging himself.

Kelley, who then lived at Corona, gained considerable notoriety several years ago by marrying a woman of 70. He grew tired of single blessedness and thought the best way to find a wife to share his joys and sorrows was to advertise. He did so, and the present Mrs. Kelley answered it. Soon afterward they were married.

The marriage does not appear to have been a happy one. Kelley began to drink, it is asserted, and last summer she had him arrested for failure to provide. Upon his promise to support her, the wife did not press the charges. Later, fearing further trouble with his wife, Kelley went to Bakersfield but shortly returned to Los Angeles.

The family troubles reached a climax shortly before noon yesterday when Mrs. Kelley called Patrolman Russell and had her husband arrested. He was booked as a "drunk" at 11:15 o'clock. The desk sergeant was ordered to hold him, as Mrs. Kelley wanted to prosecute on the charges of drunk, for being a common drunkard, failure to provide and disturbing the peace.

In the cells Kelley made a rope of two handkerchiefs in his pocket. He stood on the edge of the lower bunk in the tank, tied the handkerchiefs to the bars. He stepped off and slowly strangled to death. A few minutes later a trusty saw him, ran into the tank and pulled him down. Jailor Shand had the man removed to the Receiving Hospital where Dr. Kidder pronounced him dead.

The body was removed to Pierce Bros. morgue and Coroner Hartwell notified.

ORGANIZE FOR ORDER.

"Law Enforcement Order" is the name of a new association organized by Dr. B. M. Lawrence, organizer of the Los Angeles Anti-Clarette Club, at a meeting held in Mammoth Hall yesterday. The following officers will be asked to serve: Mayor Alexander, president; Judge Curtis D. Wilbur, vice-president; George C. Parsons, secretary; George L. Robertson, treasurer.

FIVE BITES OF KEEPER LUNCH FOR ONE MONKEY.

COMPLETELY vanquished after a furious fight of less than five minutes with "Empress," a small Rhinoceros monkey at the Luna Park Zoo, Moses Glass, an animal keeper, quoted Kipling about males and females from a cot in the Receiving Hospital yesterday. The keeper's flesh was literally taken out in chunks in five places by the fangs of the animal.

Glass had just placed food in the trough in Empress's cage when, with a vicious snarl, the brute sprang at him. Glass leaped for the door, but the Simian was on his shoulder before he could crowd through.

Wrapping her long, hairy body about his neck, the monkey sunk her fangs to the bone in Glass's right arm and again in his left before he could grasp her.

Glass, who is six feet tall, seized the Simian by the throat just as her fangs separated from an incision in his neck, and tearing loose the long arms and legs that wrapped him like the tentacles of an octopus, flung the beast against the wall of the cage half stunned.

Frantic from pain and fright, Glass again tried to get through the door, but Empress recovered first. With a leap like a steel spring, the monkey fastened herself about Glass's thighs from the rear. The keeper tried again and again to loosen her grip, but the hairy simian's arms had taken a new hold, for the keeper could not loosen them. Once in each leg the needle-like tusks sank, inflicting deep, gashing wounds and leaving the flesh lacerated where the teeth tore out.

Catching the breast of the blood-maddened beast in his hand, Glass forced the breath from the monkey until the snaky appendages loosened. Opening the door of the cage, the keeper staggered out, casting the brute on the floor of the cage as he slammed the grating.

It was necessary for the Receiving Hospital surgeons to stitch the flesh before drawing up the skin in each of Glass's wounds, which caused him great pain.

The keeper explains the unexpected madness of the monkey by the statement that quite frequently the beasts become temporarily insane for short periods from long confinement. If left undisturbed for a few days, they invariably recover and become quiet again, Glass says. The keeper's home is at Ocean Park. He is 24 years old.

Joe Tinker's Own Story.

Great Shortstop Writes for "The Times."

His Predictions for the Coming Season.

Says the Cubs Must Have New Pitchers.

BY JOE TINKER.

(Who is taking a moment at the Pioneer Theater this week.)

This is the way the situation looks to me next season: New York looks like it should make a great bid for the flag. Pittsburgh will have to develop a pitcher—or two—and Wagner and Clarke must keep in the game and play in their usual form to make that team a contender. The Cubs are in need of some new pitchers and we will have to have a good club, but it remains to be seen if Hank O'Day will get the work out of them. If Henry is as good a manager as he was an umpire, the team should make a great fight. Cincinnati should be up at the top of the second division as they have a good club, but they don't do as well as they did last year when they played the Cubs as we were soft for them. They beat us out of the flag. I don't look for Brooklyn to do anything more than they did last year and I hope they don't do as well this year as they did last when they played the Cubs as we were soft for them. They beat us out of the flag. I see my old friend Johnny Kling is to be the manager of the Boston team, and I want to say if they get any kind of pitching this year they will make all of these teams go some to beat them, for they have as good a hitting team as there is in the league. If John can get them working together he should be a big success his first year as a manager and I am pulling for him; also Hank O'Day, as they are my friends. St. Louis is a question. It looks as though Roger Bresnahan will have a hard time getting his team going like it did last year, as his club is not a first division team as it looks now and I don't think St. Louis will ever be a pennant winner. It is too hot there in the summer for the players to put up a fight all year. They can't stand it. The visiting clubs are all in there when they play only four games; and a pitcher is a wonder to stay the last spring this time, but the club with the luck will finish first.

I think the race this year will be the greatest of them all. I look to see five different clubs at the head during the season. The good clubs have gone back and the weaker ones have improved a wonderful lot since last spring this time, but the club with the luck will finish first.

I am not sure that Jack Johnson is going to hit Jim Flynn at Windsor, Nev.; but I am pretty sure he is due to hit the boxing game. That is a fight which every promoter in

Great Shortstop Writes for "The Times."

His Predictions for the Coming Season.

Says the Cubs Must Have New Pitchers.

BY JOE TINKER.

(Who is taking a moment at the Pioneer Theater this week.)

This is the way the situation looks to me next season: New York looks like it should make a great bid for the flag. Pittsburgh will have to develop a pitcher—or two—and Wagner and Clarke must keep in the game and play in their usual form to make that team a contender. The Cubs are in need of some new pitchers and we will have to have a good club, but it remains to be seen if Hank O'Day will get the work out of them. If Henry is as good a manager as he was an umpire, the team should make a great fight. Cincinnati should be up at the top of the second division as they have a good club, but they don't do as well as they did last year when they played the Cubs as we were soft for them. They beat us out of the flag. I don't look for Brooklyn to do anything more than they did last year and I hope they don't do as well this year as they did last when they played the Cubs as we were soft for them. They beat us out of the flag. I see my old friend Johnny Kling is to be the manager of the Boston team, and I want to say if they get any kind of pitching this year they will make all of these teams go some to beat them, for they have as good a hitting team as there is in the league. If John can get them working together he should be a big success his first year as a manager and I am pulling for him; also Hank O'Day, as they are my friends. St. Louis is a question. It looks as though Roger Bresnahan will have a hard time getting his team going like it did last year, as his club is not a first division team as it looks now and I don't think St. Louis will ever be a pennant winner. It is too hot there in the summer for the players to put up a fight all year. They can't stand it. FAMOUS ATHLETES PLAN DETAILS TIMES MARATHON.

Date Is Fixed for May 4, Provided that Date Does Not Interfere With the Automobile Races—A Well-known Business Man Donates a Cup for One of the Prizes to Be Awarded.

BY OWEN R. BIRD.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT of The Times' support of the amateur Marathon race, which will be run in April or May, has brought forth many expressions of approval from business men, who are interested in the upbuilding of the youth of the city.

Prominent among these men is W. A. Johnstone, who has donated one of the prizes cups which will be awarded the winners in this great contest.

In an interview today Mr. Johnstone said: "I believe that the proposed Marathon will be one of the finest sporting events ever promised in California. It will serve to bring prominently before the public many aspiring athletes who need only such an opportunity to show their mettle."

"In offering a prize cup, I feel that I am helping to elevate and purify Southern California sport. The splendid way in which The Times is supporting this event, deserves great credit from the sportsman and the public generally. This support makes possible a real contest of endurance, which will create great interest in the city."

Enterprising of The Times, good advertising for the city, interesting to those who love outdoor sports, and good for the boys. I don't believe in heart-breaking, nerve-racking strains, that may result in permanent injury—but twelve miles seems all right after proper training, and, after all it's the training more than the race itself that counts.

Superintendent, Postal Telegraph Cable Company.

AT THE FIRST MEETING of the board of directors of The Times Modified Marathon the date was thoroughly discussed and a definite working plan was laid out for the members.

Unless it is found to interfere with the dates of the next Santa Monica automobile races, the athletes will be sent away from the Times Building, at the corner of First and Broadway, May 4, 1912. The starting gun will boom over the city streets at 2:30, and the great race will be on.

PROMISE MUCH.

Fight Bugs Should See All Kinds of Action.

Waugh Has Idea He Can Beat Freddie Welsh.

Prelims Made Up from Local Near White Hopes.

BY GREY OLIVER.

All of the six pug who are to take part in the big scrap at the Vesper arena on January 20 will be in active training this week and the local fight bugs will have the opportunity of seeing the boys in action.

There have been many contests in this city and at Vesper, but it can safely be stated that there has never been a card offered in which the bugs have had so much interest than in real seriousness as in the coming one. This is not because the boys are really known as fierce ones, but it is due to the fact that practically all of the six are white hopes in the lightweight division, or think they are and will naturally put up a smashing bout, if they have any desire for future battles.

The scraps should be with good ones, for the very good reason that all of the boys will surely try to win as quickly as possible. The main event will be between Freddie Welsh, a lightweight possibility, and Bobby Waugh of Texas, who knocked Giblin out at the last contest after having been himself knocked down twice in the first round. Welsh is far too clever for Waugh, but many fight bugs have an idea that Freddie has gone back. Personally, I have to be shown very plainly that he has, for I do not think so. The way that he handled Rivers two days before Joe fought Conley did not show even an indication of a man going back. About I should say.

Waugh has an idea he can beat Welsh, but where he gets that stuff I do not even try to guess. He thinks he can and is going into the ring with that belief. Consequently it can be expected that he will run Freddie all around the ring.

No matter how the main event may come out it does not figure to be any better than the two preliminaries. In the first of these Kid Delton and Mattie Frankie Gage are scheduled to clash and one of them is due to drop before the ten rounds are up, for both are aspiring white hopes. The white hope ever came to think of the other fellow being able to stay ten rounds and we may expect a clinching fight.

The other one sounds just as good, for in this Ed Patton and Rose are to clash, and these are two more who think that Welsh is not so much after all. Some of Patton's friends have been anxious to put up all kinds of money for Patton to be added to the purse, while Rose cannot imagine why anyone ever overlooked him as a real white hope.

All of these boys have offered time and again to fight anyone at 125 pounds and under the circumstances if something does not happen in both fights before the scheduled number of rounds, then every fight bug will have the right to be astonished. It looks like the most promising card of lightweight white hopes we have had offered for months.

So there you are.

ATTENTION! FIGHT OFF.

The scheduled fight between Abe Attell and Frankie White has been declared off at New Orleans on January 14 because White kicked on making 125 pounds at ringside. White has not only found it difficult to get the low, but he has shown a lot of wisdom in agreeing to meet the champion Abe at Abe's own weight. Anybody who tangles with Abe at 125 ringside should find out beforehand what the short end of the purse will be, for he will probably have to take it. Don't let White hear what it would be and did not like the looks of it.

Hang! Hang!

DO GOOD WORK.

NINETEEN MEN OF LOS ANGELES CLUB SHOOT WELL.

J. F. Mallory Is High Gun, With Jack Moulton in Second Place.

Four Events of Twenty-five Birds Each, Unknown Angles—Times More Chances at Club Traps.

The usual Sunday blue rock shoot at the Los Angeles Gun Club was held yesterday afternoon on the club grounds at Venice and the attendance of shooters was very satisfactory, no less than nineteen men being at the traps. Some very good scores were made.

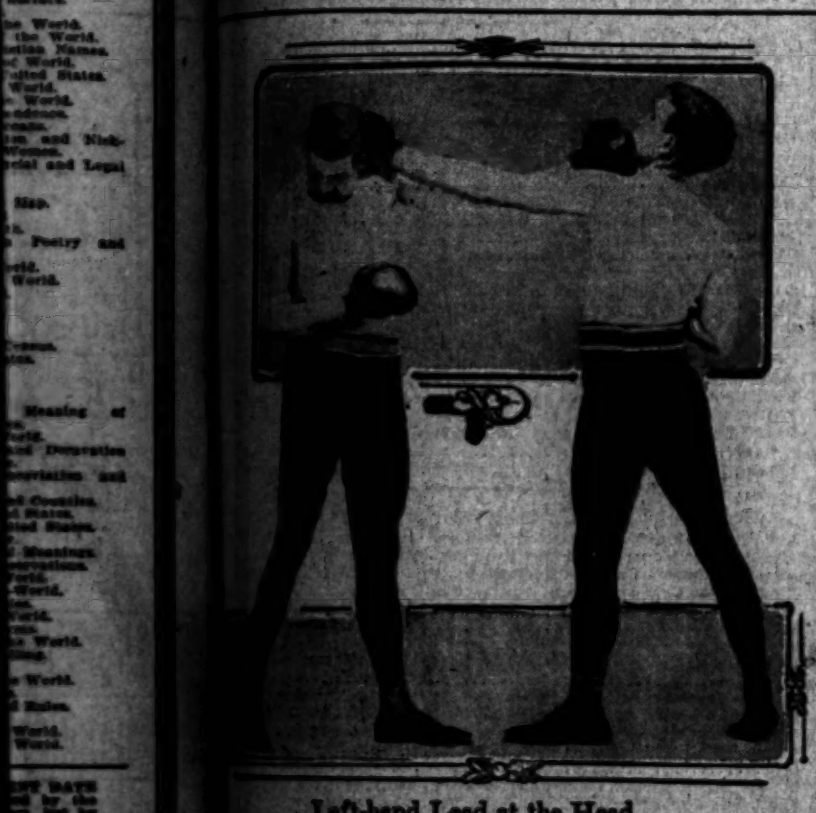

The program consisted of four twenty-five bird events at unknown angles and J. F. Mallory was high gun with 91 out of a possible 100. Jack Moulton was second with 89 and Pat third with 88.

Unusual interest is being shown in the club shooting, as there are but three more chances to shoot for the numerous prizes that have been put up. Men rivalry exists between the members and some very close matches are shot each club day. Visitors are always welcome, but as spectators but as participants.

De Witt Van Court Describes Exactly How to Deliver This Celebrated Man-Eater; How to Hold Your Feet and Where to Place Your Feet—Some of the Famous Fighters Who Have Used It.

THE RIGHT FOOT is directly behind the heel of the left foot, the right foot at anything less than a right angle to the left foot is uncomfortable. The right foot has a little back and a little to the right. Stand with the right foot square to your opponent. If you stand too much to the right, the blows will go too far to the right, and when ducking a blow you will be in the neck instead of the blow passing over your head.

Where among the present-day boxers you will find such hard hitters as John L. Sullivan, Young Corbett, Aurelio Herrera, Bob Fitzsimmons, Peter Maher, Charlie Mitchell, Peter Jackson, Dal Hawkins, Tom Sharkey, Jim Jeffries or Frank Smith?

Look at the record of Jack Johnson. It is enough to convince any one that he is a long way from being the equal of Peter Jackson, or any other leading man of the old school.

He is a great defensive fighter and can hurt some when he sends a punch along, but he would not have been in the same class of men that the old boys did.

It took Johnson twelve rounds to finish Jim Flynn, and twelve to clean Stanley Ketchel, and was not able to put Tommy Burns away at all, although he tried hard to do so for fourteen rounds.

Could any of these men have stayed that long with such men as Jack Dempsey or Bob Fitzsimmons, who weren't either of them nearly so big and strong as Johnson? Jack would not have had a look-in with Fitz when he was at his best. Bob was one of the most effective hitters in the whole history of the sport. He had tremendous force behind his blows and better still, he knew how to deliver them. Whenever he went after a man he meant getting there, and used to put every ounce back of his punch.

The ring has never seen a man that could counter like Bob. He was a regular demon, if he could get a man to lead at him. Look at his record; it fairly bristles with knockouts, and nearly all of them were top-notchers. Even when he grew past the age when a boxer starts on the down-grade he still kept his old smashing punch. He had a knack of getting home and putting a man to sleep such as few men ever possessed.

Old John L. Sullivan, too, was a biter. It is true that he was a one-punch man, but that punch was a whole lot when he got it home. Look at his feat of touring the States for

A LEFT-HAND LEAD at the head should be delivered by stepping in with the left foot; stepping to the left of your opponent's left foot. Place your foot straight on the floor as you hit, letting the heel strike first. The blow should land the instant the foot touches the floor. Push your left arm straight at the head without bringing it back, and let the right foot follow up until it is close to the left, but not against it. You will see by drawing the right foot up when you hit that you get more reach.

In getting away, take a short step back, with the right foot first, then spring back with both feet, and as you alight on the floor, let the left foot touch the floor first, an instant ahead of the right. This should bring your feet into exactly the same position as before. In getting away from all leads or counters at the head, you should get back in this manner.

Practice this blow with a duck for a left straight counter or a right cross counter, and with a guard for the left-hand swing. Practice all leads working forward and backward.

DE WITT VAN COURT'S COLUMN.

BARNEY FARLEY, an English expert on boxing, takes the same view that the old-timers do in this country, in comparing the present-day boxers with those of the old school.

In the old days of fighting around San Francisco, we had a Barney Farley that brought out Joe McAllell, whom Barney thought would be the champion of the world. Barney also ran a famous road-house where many of the old-timers trained, but I do not believe that the author of this story is any relation of the Farley Barney, for it is pretty safe to say that he would take the same views if he were alive today.

When asked the question: "Has boxing retrograded?" he replied: "Why certainly; with very few exceptions, I doubt if any of the leading men at any of the weights are as smart, quick, or as clever as the men of twenty, or even ten years ago."

It is beyond question that the sciences of hitting is about as near a lost art as possible.

the United States should do his best to stop. It is not made for the honest purpose of testing the skill of the fighters. It is simply a game to grab the loser's end of a profitable fight. It is a game to win from John-John if the dinge were in a state of coma.

Another national baseball league is to be formed. One more hand to feed the kitty at the national commission meetings. One more assorted gag.

What is needed in baseball isn't so much another league as some other men at the head of the present league.

The raw, crude and palpable ending of the ticket scandals by the national commission was not a step downward; it was a swoop downward.

The most startling news I have read in a long time is that the great star of pugilism, Kid Dalton, has "declined to recede from his demands" for a guarantee in the lightweight tourney.

Freddie Welsh announces that he intends giving a little light exhibition of boxing for the benefit of his lady friends. Is he referring to his coming fight with the white hope, Robbie Wagh, or to something else?

LOU NIKRENT CUTS FIFTY-MILE RECORD.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WRITER TO THE TIMES.) SAN DIEGO, Jan. 7.—Lou Nikrent in a Reo car won the fifty-mile race over a two-mile dirt track at Lakeside this afternoon and 1908 record of 44 min. 12 sec. was made at all ranges except rapid fire, where the club, with the exception of Grace and Fraser, is weak.

The time was 44 min. 12 sec. H. H. Shain in a Schacht car met with an accident during the race and lost considerable time. He finished a poor second. Only two cars completed.

RIFLE AND REVOLVER MARKSMEN BUSY AGAIN.

THE Los Angeles Rifle and Revolver Club shot a telegraph match with the Redlands Rifle Club yesterday, but as no word has as yet been received from Capt. Scher of the latter club the results are still in doubt.

The conditions were 200 and 500 yards, slow fire, and 100 yards rapid fire.

For the locals Grace was high with 131 total, having succeeded in landing a possible at rapid fire. Hubbs was high at 500 yards, getting a possible with a rifle that was badly bent on a deer hunt several years ago. The burro in whose pack the rifle was washed caught the barrel in the branches of a tree and tried to uproot the tree, with the result that the owner of the rifle was to shoot around the corner to hit the bull's-eye.

Danah, a writer of some note in eastern sporting magazines, ambled out and, borrowing a rifle from Crawford, proceeded to land fourth place just to show that he was still in the running. Fraser, the veteran revolver man, got high score at 200 yards, demonstrating that constant practice with the revolver is extremely helpful in offhand work at the 500-yard range.

The conditions were excellent for good scoring, there not being much wind and the sun being shaded just enough to cut out the glare and as a result good scores were made at all ranges except rapid fire, where the club, with the exception of Grace and Fraser, is weak.

Here is what the University of Michigan Daily has to say regarding the appointment of Yost:

"Though a little ahead of time, there is not a thing that any Michigan student or alumnus would rather receive for a holiday remembrance than the announcement that Fielding H. Yost had signed for two more years, and that there is also a clause in the document providing for an indefinite extension of the time. There was ground for the fear that Yost would not be able to coach Michigan teams again because of his large business connections, but happily this difficulty has been overcome."
